We all Share Responsibility for the Success of the Negotiations in 2010

For the past year, the new Executive of the Federation has been slowly setting the table in preparation for the negotiations in April 2010. The problems remain glaring and several solutions have been identified. All of our partners must demonstrate a firm willingness to settle them, but especially the general practitioners of Quebec.

As we have already written, enhancing the status of family medicine revolves around a set of measures that can be divided into the following major themes: training, organization and remuneration. I will not repeat what was already written in the last newsletter, but I would like to note that a consensus was established with our main partners on the recommendations of this report. During the last election campaign, two of the three Quebec political parties accepted this vision of the reality of the family physician and the importance of placing him/her at the centre of our health system. The ADQ preferred or chose not to respond! As for the universities, the CSSSs, the agencies and the Ministry, they have all indicated their interest and their commitment to achieving this objective.

The work has already begun, but the actual rendezvous will take place in April 2010, during the next negotiations. However, before sitting down at the negotiating table, we must develop our own consensus: while we see that the objectives are clear, the means to reach them are less so.

The professional union congress that will take place on May 28 and 29, 2009 will confirm the launch of our demands and our strategy. It will not be easy. We are all aware of the economic situation and of how it might evolve until then. We all remember the last negotiation when the government fixed the agreement over six years: two years of freeze and four years of 2%. Recruitment and conditions of practice of general practitioners in Quebec will certainly not be improved with an agreement like that. If the situation does not change, then the idea of having a family physician for each citizen will remain nothing more than a dream.

Everyone can also recall the image of the good, responsible citizen that the Federation presented during the negotiation on salary adjustments for Quebec physicians, while our specialist colleagues...

were showing a much more defiant and aggressive face, with the results that we are all familiar with. We should learn from this lesson!

This attitude depends on your representatives, of course, and we are taking note, but it also depends to a great extent on your resolve and your participation. Your solidarity, your commitment and your support will play a key role in how these negotiations progress. We will have to mobilize and it is now that this must begin. We will be sitting down at the negotiating table in less than a year… it’s right around the corner!

To have the means to reach our ambitions, we will have to create an action and protest fund worthy of its name, just as the FMSQ did two years ago when they were negotiating salary adjustments. At this time, our fund is depleted and would not even allow for a semblance of resistance. We will have to resort to serious means. This issue will also be raised at our professional union congress.

Our last agreement was spread over six years. That was way too long! If this were to be the case again this time, and the government has been hinting at this, we will have to be ready and not accept half measures, because that would postpone any corrective and progressive action to 2016 with the barely disguised dangers that represents.

This negotiation will have to focus on three main themes: raising the status of family medicine, pay equity with our specialist colleagues and parity with general practitioners across Canada.

While our adjustment signed a year and a half ago extends until 2016, physicians in the rest of Canada are continuing to negotiate new agreements, as general practitioners in Ontario and Alberta have just done. The gap is widening. The agreement on salary adjustment signed in November 2007 also increased the already existing gap of more than 5% between remuneration of general practitioners and specialists in Quebec.

“Family medicine at the heart of health” will be the theme of this very important congress. We will have to make this a kick-off event, the flame that will ignite a process that will lead us to negotiation of a satisfactory agreement for general practitioners and for the future of family medicine in Quebec. We are expecting excellent attendance of our members, who will be there with renewed resolve, committed to the implementation of winning measures. This congress will allow for the use of the training allowance fund and will incorporate workshops and conferences where all practice environments will be revised.

Only a common vision and complete solidarity will enable us to reach the essential objectives that we share. Please mark these dates in your agendas now so that you will be there to express your views. There will not be a better opportunity to do so.

Dr. Marc-André Asselin
AMOM President
A New Editor-in-Chief for OMNI

MOM is pleased to welcome Dr. Marie-Pierre Laflamme not only as Association Secretary, but also as Editor-in-Chief of your newsletter.

Working both in a private office and in a CLSC, this general practitioner from the East sector of Montreal has interesting experience in professional union work that will allow her to successfully carry out the mandates that will be assigned to her.

Dr. Laflamme is replacing Dr. Serge Dulude who has moved over to the FMOQ to head the Department of Planning and Regionalization.

Welcome Dr. Laflamme!

Dr. Marc-André Asselin
President

2009: the year of the new OMNI?

I would like to take this opportunity at the beginning of the year to wish you a wonderful, happy new year. My first mandate, as the newly elected Secretary of your Association, is to review our means of communicating with our members. While taking into account the limiting realities of certain factors (money and time, to name just two), we would like to improve our website, making it better adapted to your needs. We may also wish to use e-mail more regularly to communicate with you, in particular to exchange information or distribute our newsletter. However, we must find a way to keep our e-mail lists up to date and to be able to learn each member’s preferences with regard to means of communication. We will also be reviewing OMNI to update it and give it a new look.

Your suggestions as to how to reformat our tools for reaching you are most welcome. This is a major project that will be carried out over a long period. At this time, we are asking you to send us your e-mail address, with a message to Mrs. Danielle Villemaire: dvillemaire@amom.net. The success of this endeavour depends on your cooperation.

Dr. Marie-Pierre Laflamme
AMOM Secretary
AMOM remembers...

Did you know that your association, AMOM, will be celebrating its 48th anniversary in June 2009? Close to a half century of service to the general practitioners of our region, and indirectly to all general practitioners in Quebec. To underline the passage of time and to salute those who came before us, the AMOM Board had decided to honour its past presidents, as well as a few physicians who have been particularly dedicated to AMOM over the years. For the occasion, a low-key and very pleasant dinner took place on December 12.

Of the ten presidents who have served at the helm of AMOM since it was founded on June 22, 1961, eight are still here with us and all were invited. Only Dr. Lawrence B. McNally, who was president from 1974 to 1977, and who is currently practicing in Texas, could not be reached. Unfortunately, Dr. Guy Laporte, the first president and founder of the Association had to decline at the last minute for personal reasons. Six finally attended and I believe that they were happy to see each other again and to meet the Montreal Council delegates.

The most senior of the presidents is Dr. Jean-Guy Harris, known to many of you as he still practices at Notre-Dame-de-la-Merci Hospital, in addition to serving as Head of the Clinical Department of General Medicine at the CSSS Bordeaux-Cartierville/Saint-Laurent. He was president from 1964 to 1966, and in 1971. Next comes Dr. Raymond Rivest who is also still working in the same institution in the north sector of Montreal, and was president from 1966 to 1969. Dr. Rivest also acted as a staff member at the Collège des médecins for many years. Dr. Jean-Paul Robin was president in 1977 only, but was very active in the life of the Association and the Federation in the 70s.

An immeasurable well of knowledge of medical and AMOM history was present around the table.

We are all quite familiar with the last two guests known to us not only for their presence in the Association of Montreal, but especially as presidents of the Federation. Dr. Clément Richer was AMOM president from 1978 to 1981, before he served the Federation for 14 years. Finally Dr. Renald Dutil headed the Association from 1982 to 1995 before he became president of the Federation from 1996 to 2007.

This cheerful evening was filled with memories and the pleasures of renewing contact through many thanks and acknowledgments. Each of the presidents was presented with a plaque mentioning the years of his presidency and highlighting his part in the history of the Association des médecins omnipraticiens de Montréal.

Five other guests were also invited to this dinner: Dr. Georges Boileau, Dr. Georges Desrosiers, Dr. Jacques Dinelle, Dr. Gaston Drapeau and Dr. Alain Neveu. They are members of AMOM who were also honoured for their involvement and contribution to our Association. An immeasurable well of knowledge of medical and AMOM history was present around the table.

On behalf of all members of AMOM, we extend heartfelt thanks to these pioneers who built the life of our professional union and that of the Fédération des médecins omnipraticiens du Québec.

2009 Golf Tournament of the Medical Federations
to Benefit the Quebec Physicians Assistance Program (PAMQ)

And the winners are...

Once again, at the AMOM Annual General Meeting, the names of three lucky golfers were drawn who will participate in the PAMQ golf tournament. This year, in an effort to broaden the number of participants in the drawing, the Association allowed everyone, those who golf and those who don’t, to have a chance to be one of the guests at this annual event. Even a non-golfer can enjoy participating in this day and the evening events.

Our congratulations go to Dr. Maria Berjat, Dr. Claude Farah-Lajoie and Dr. John Moini who will take part in this summer outing. The AMOM Executive will name the player who will complete the foursome.

As in past years, Dr. Marc-Andre Asselin will take an active role in this important event, along with the elected members of the Federation, which will take place on July 27 at Le Mirage Golf Club in Terrebonne.

Congratulations to the winners!

Or phone: 514-878-1911 and ask to speak with Danielle Villemaire

Rest assured that this information will be handled in the strictest confidence.

The success of the upcoming negotiations depends on each one of us.
Focus of 2009 Plan is the 2010 Negotiations

Each year, in early January, the Association Executive develops its plan for the new year and presents it to you. The plan for 2009 will deal mainly with preparing our list of demands for the 2010 negotiations which, it goes without saying, will likely be difficult given what we are anticipating the economic situation will be.

Be that as it may, the problems remain real and solutions will have to be found. I will return to this in my editorial.

In 2009, AMOM will focus primarily on the upcoming negotiation. Raising the status of family medicine and the adjustment of our remuneration as compared to our specialist colleagues here in Quebec and our general practitioner counterparts in the rest of Canada remain top priorities. Our last agreement was signed almost six years ago and there are concerns that the next one will be more of the same. Let us not be fooled, because that could put us back to 2016!

The negotiation of a new agreement offers the chance to review everything and to put all matters on the table. Ongoing negotiations serve to settle specific issues, while the renewal presents an excellent opportunity to question everything. While the socio-political climate is not ideal, from a strictly organizational and union point of view, there is no getting around the fact that this renewal is of prime importance.

AMOM’s plan for 2009 takes this into account. First we will be reviewing our communications. We will take a good part of the year to conduct an in-depth analysis of the use of e-mail and faxes, to reexamine our website and make it more interactive, to make our newsletter more vibrant and more accessible and, finally, to update our pyramids in each sector. You will be called upon in this reorganization. Still on the same theme, we will be visiting each department of general medicine that would like to see us, to go to the source and hear your suggestions and your proposals.

The year 2009 will also see the return of the agreement committee, which was a standing committee. Its mandate will be to prepare the Montreal list of demands that will guide the discussions in the different workshops at the professional union congress on May 28 and 29. It will then be reworked and fine tuned at our delegates conference at the end of June.

We will continue to pursue the steps undertaken in 2008 relating to physicians nearing retirement. We are hoping that we will be able to present a final report in the next newsletter, as well as realistic proposals for this group of physicians.

We want to be ready for the December Federation Council meeting where the members will give final approval for the action plan for spring 2010. We are counting heavily on your collaboration to reach that goal.

Dr. Marc-André Asselin
President
Each year, the Association des médecins de langue française du Canada and L’Actualité médicale honour Canadian francophone physicians who exemplify outstanding medical practice.

Dr. Nathalie Girouard, who has served as AMOM delegate to the FMOQ Council for many years, was awarded the Médecins de cœur et d’action prize. This general practitioner from the southwest sector of the city delivers most of her patients at Lasalle Hospital. A mother of three, Dr. Girouard has shown an unparalleled devotion in her profession.

AMOM salutes her and wishes her warm congratulations for this well-deserved honour.

Dr. Marc-André Asselin
AMOM President

Welcome to our new members!

The following physicians have recently joined the ranks of AMOM

Dr. Yan Raphael Assayag  Dr. Christian Fortin  Dr. Djavad Moin-Darbari
Dr. Catherine Belzile       Dr. Nathalie Gagnon        Dr. Sandra Morris
Dr. Geneviève Blackburn     Dr. Maxime Goyette         Dr. Sylvie Ouellet
Dr. Souad Bouhrour           Dr. Marie Joyal             Dr. Marie-Chantal Pelletier
Dr. Lise Choquette            Dr. Pamela Lacombe         Dr. Philippe Rohé
Dr. Mélanie Deneault        Dr. David Levy            Dr. Seck Mamadou Saliou
Dr. Richael Enjojukan        Dr. Marie-Claude Matte       Dr. Christina Teodorescu

By becoming members of our professional union association, they are contributing to improved representation of Montreal general practitioners on the FMOQ Council and to the promotion and defense of our specific interests. In addition, as members of AMOM they will be better informed about the issues of concern to them and will be able to benefit from AMOM assistance if needed.

Dr. Marie-Pierre Laflamme
AMOM Secretary
On January 15, 2009, the new AMOM Board met to say “au revoir” to three of our colleagues, Dr. Lise Cusson, Dr. Serge Dulude and Dr. Marc Gagné, who have each decided to take new career paths after many years of work and commitment to our Association.

In his remarks, Dr. Asselin thanked each of them on behalf of the Association. He also spoke of their careers and we wanted to share these highlights with you.

Dr. Lise Cusson was appointed a delegate to the Council in 1990. Six years later, she joined the Board and assumed the duties of Vice-president of AMOM, a post that she held from 1996 to 2008. She sat on the FMOQ Regionalization and Planning Committee from 1996 to 1999, and she worked on organizing the professional union congress. In 2005, she was part of the Council Committee, the precursor of the Federation’s Audit Committee. Finally, she chaired the AMOM Committee on Young Physicians which presented its final report to the FMOQ in 2007. We are pleased to report that Dr. Cusson will be continuing her duties as a delegate to the Council.

Dr. Dulude first became involved in AMOM as a substitute delegate in 1983. In 1996 he became AMOM Secretary and editor-in-chief of OMNI. In addition to his major involvement in the DRMG, Dr. Dulude chaired many AMOM committees. He saw to the organization of the annual delegates conferences and, just recently, he chaired the Committee on Retiring Physicians. In his new role as head of FMOQ Planning and Regionalization Department, Dr. Dulude will take on other challenges that will serve all general practitioners in Quebec.

Dr. Marc Gagné joined the ranks of AMOM in 1996 when he served as Centre-East sector councillor. Since 1998, he has directed the Montreal continuing medical education network and he sits on the Federation training committee. He has been responsible for the scientific content of many FMOQ and AMOM conferences. Dr. Gagné is not
As in past years, this year’s AMOM annual general meeting took place in November at the Omni Hotel Mont-Royal. Following a longstanding tradition, the meeting was preceded by a scientific conference. However, this year, we made a logistical change and held the meeting during the luncheon at noon. It appears from the excellent attendance at the meeting, that the majority of you clearly appreciated the change. While, in the past, we had to deduct about 15 to 20% from the number of registrations submitted, in order to estimate the number of meals to order, this year, it was the opposite. Not only did we make reservations for the total number of registrations, having made allowance for a certain increase in attendance, but we also had to add the same percentage that we had in the past subtracted to accommodate all those in attendance. And our survey responses were 90% in favor of this change. While we were a bit surprised by this outstanding level of participation, we are extremely pleased and we are quite certain that the same format will be followed for 2009.

At the meeting, our president, Dr. Asselin, reported on AMOM’s professional union and political work and Dr. Marc Gagné presented his last report on continuing professional development. Dr. Gagné, who has been chair of regional training (CME) for the Association for the past ten years, recently decided on a different career path. Dr. Daniel Rouette, who has been vice-chair for many years, will take on this portfolio.

The FMOQ President, Dr. Louis Godin, filled the members in on a variety of topics, including the salary adjustment, public health and young physicians; he focused in particular on the important issue of enhancing the status of family medicine and the results of the work undertaken to date by the Federation committee. See Dr. Asselin’s editorial for more on this issue.

Dr. Asselin also expressed his thanks to our colleagues, Dr. Lise Cusson and Dr. Serge Dulude, who are both leaving AMOM. Dr. Dulude was recently appointed to the Direction of Planning and Regionalization at the FMOQ. The former AMOM Secretary was warmly applauded for his generous work on behalf of Montreal physicians.

The last item on the agenda was the elections of the AMOM Executive as well as the sector delegates. Following the departures of Dr. Lise Cusson, who left the vice-presidency and Dr. Serge Dulude, who was Secretary, Dr. Michel Vachon and Dr. Marie-Pierre Laflamme were elected by acclamation to these positions, respectively. Sector delegates were elected by mail-in voting in Centre West and Centre East. Dr. Didier Serero was re-elected delegate for sector 5 and Dr. Francine Leger was elected in sector 6.

It is interesting to note that women make up close to 45% of our new team. We sincerely congratulate those who were re-elected, as well as all the newly elected councilors, assistant councilors (cont’ on page 11) and delegates. The president also expressed sincere thanks to the members who were leaving this year, for their contributions within AMOM over the years.

This evening of tribute was marked by friendship, respect and the collaborative spirit that had developed among us over the years. Each of these special members of AMOM were presented with a plaque in recognition of their dedication to our association.

We thank them from the bottom of our hearts and wish them the very best in their future endeavours.

AMOM – Calendar Notes – 2008

January
24: First meeting of the Board for the year.
➤ Presentation of list of activities and approval of the budget for the new year. The focus for 2008 will be young physicians, those nearing retirement and the sector visits.

February
14: Meeting of the Committee on Young Physicians.
➤ Preparation of the committee’s final report.

March
20: Meeting of the Committee on Young Physicians.
➤ Continue working on the report.
27: Board meeting.
➤ Update on the negotiations for physicians working in Public Health. This is a complicated issue that must be closely followed.

April
25: Caucus of delegates to the Council.
26: FMOQ Council.

May
12: Sector Visits – North Sector.
➤ First sector visit. The main topics raised dealt with recruitment and the diminished status of family medicine among students. Very interesting breakfast meeting.
13: Meeting of the Committee on Retiring Physicians.
22: Meeting of the Committee on Young Physicians to prepare for presentation of the final report.
29: Board meeting.
➤ Ongoing work: public health, progress report on the issue of salary adjustment.
30: Annual Association Delegates Conference.
➤ This meeting took place at Mont-Gabriel in the Laurentians. The three main topics were: the presentation of the final report of the Committee on Young Physicians, an update on the negotiations and private medicine in Québec.

June
3 and 17: Meeting of the Committee on Retiring Physicians.
➤ Work progressing and decision was made to prepare a questionnaire to be sent to all physicians aged 55 and over 12: Sector Visits – Centre-East Sector.
➤ Interesting breakfast meeting, in spite of having just a few participants. Discussion focused on the issue of retiring physicians.
26: Board meeting.
➤ Discussed the Collège des médecins de famille du Canada proposal to recognize family medicine as a specialty, a proposal that was rejected by the FMOQ and AMOM within the current framework. Also planned for the September meeting with the heads of the DCMGs.

July
28: Participation of AMOM in the Medical Federations benefit golf tournament for the PAMQ.
➤ Once again the tournament was a success - $130 000 was raised for the assistance program.

September
18: Sector Visits – South-West Sector.
➤ Very lively discussion at breakfast with the physicians in the Verdun sector. Focus was on the FMGs, the network clinics and the agreement on intensive care.
23: Meeting with the physicians at the Jewish General Hospital.
➤ Dr. Dulude, standing in for Dr. Asselin, met with physicians as part of a meeting of the Department of General Medicine.
23: Meeting of the Committee on Retiring Physicians.
➤ Excellent response rate to the questionnaire: over 400 questionnaires have already been received and compiled.

(cont’d on page 13)
25: Board meeting.
   ➤ Elections at the Association. The Board was informed that there will be elections in at least two sectors: Centre-West and Centre-East.

25: Meeting with the heads of the DCMGs.
   ➤ Almost all the department heads were present. Interesting and productive meeting where the main issue was the report on enhancing the status of family medicine, the professional union congress and the network coordinators in the CSSSs.

October
3: Caucus of delegates to the Council.

4: FMOQ Council.

9: Participation of AMOM at the dinner for the OLO Foundation. Again this year, AMOM asked Dr. Nathalie Girouard and Mrs. Danielle Villemaire to represent AMOM at this benefit dinner.

15: Sector Visits – West Sector.
   ➤ No specific topic, the physicians raised local problems.

28: Meeting of the Committee on Retiring Physicians.
   ➤ Started analysis of the many completed questionnaires received.

   ➤ Met with a few members on site.

November
6: Board meeting and elections of sector councillors.
   ➤ Counting of the mail-in ballots in the two sectors: Dr. Didier Serero was elected councillor in the Centre-West sector and Dr. Francine Léger, in the Centre-East sector.

21: Annual General Meeting and elections of the AMOM Executive.
   ➤ Annual meeting attended by over one hundred members. The majority of the participants liked the luncheon-meeting format. Will be repeated.

December
12: Reception for past presidents and honoured members of AMOM.

13: Caucus of delegates to the FMOQ Council.

Au Québec, une femme sur neuf sera atteinte d’un cancer du sein au cours de sa vie.

Selon un sondage mené auprès des femmes :
- près de la moitié des Montréalaises âgées de 50 à 69 ans n’a pas subi de mammographie de dépistage au cours des 24 derniers mois;
- les médecins jouent un rôle crucial dans la décision des femmes de participer au PQDCS.

Le PQDCS soutient les médecins dans la lutte contre le cancer :
- il invite systématiquement toutes les femmes de 50 à 69 ans à subir une mammographie tous les deux ans;
- il assure le suivi de la patiente en cas de besoin d’investigation plus poussée;
- il achemine tous les résultats au médecin de la patiente.

Le Centre de coordination des services régionaux du PQDCS de Montréal invite les médecins à encourager leurs patientes à participer au programme.
